Property Sales.-Messrs. Wm. Seemuller & Co. auctioneers, sold at the Court House on the 17th inst. for Howard Munnikhuysen, assignee of a mortgage executed by John R. D. Thomas and wife to Eliza C. Lurman, 247 acres and 3 roods of land, known as "Bacon's Hall," situated three miles from Glencoe Station, on the N. C. R. R., improved by a stone dwelling, a cottage, tenant house, two barns, two barracks, and other outbuildings, to James H. Buchanan and John I. Middleton for $12,000. Messrs, Wm. Seemuller & Co., auctioneers, sold on the premises, on the 17th inst., for Messrs. Venable & Packard, attorneys, 48 acres of land on the old Frederick Road, 2 miles west of Catonsville, improved by a frame dwelling, &c., to Mr. E. Burnett, for $6.060.91. The Ward Estate of 50 acres, at the intersection of Lake and Roland Avenues, near Lake Roland, it stated, has been sold to Mr. Chas. F. Mayer, the President of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Co., at $1.000 p r acre. The handsome property of the late George I Milligan, containing about 40 acres, adjoining the property of Mr. Washington Stevenson, the "Aigburth Vale" property, recently purchased, and the Misses Stevenson, close to Towson, has been purchased by Mr. Robert D. Morrison, the well known member of the Baltimore bar, for $16,000. The property is improved by a handsome residence of stone. built by the late George B Milligan, and occupied by him for many years as a residence. Indicted for Pool Selling .- Messrs. Lynn & Wall, proprietors of "The Arlington Driving Park, near Pimlico, have been indicted by the Grand Jury of Baltimore county for selling pools on races other than on those ran on their track. Mr. Wall in commenting on the indictment, said: "Bookmaking is a profession with me, and I have always contrived to conduct it on a purely business and honest principle. A pool-room in the centre of a large city is more or less demoralizing to the youthful public, and I would never attempt to violate any law by again conducting a place on Fayette street. Out here it is different. Some months ago I learned of the desirable locality of the Arlington Driving Park, and upon consulting the best counsel, was informed that the new law would not be violated by starting business here. I have been indieted, it is true. I intend to make a test case of it, and have not the slightest fear of the result.-The case will be investigated at Towson on next Tuesday, and for counsel I have engaged Major John I. Yellott and How. J. Fred. C. Talbott." Base Ball -- Towsons vs. Y. M. C. A .-- In the game played between the Y. M. C. A. Club and the Towsons, on the grounds of the former on the 18th inst., the Towsons were again the victors by the score of 10 to 2. This is the first defeat the Y. M. C. A. have suffered on the home grounds this season, The batteries for the Y. M. C. A. were Roach and Hammett; Towsons, Stocksdale and Ensor. Following is the score: 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 5 9 Tot 1

May 31st, Mr. Louis Bender, a resident of Catonsville, was set upon by a lot of negroes and was brutally assaulted. The first blow knocked Mr. Bender senseless. He was beaten about the head and kicked in the mouth, and several of his front teeth were knocked out. Mr. Whitney and others hearing the commotion came to his rescue and drove the negroes off at the point of a pistol. A number of them were arrested and lodged in Jail, but the evidence was only sufficient to convict two of the number-John Chase and James Bacon.-They were tried before the Court and Judge Burke prisoners to the Penitentiary for three years. No cause has ever been assigned for the deadly assault

Towson Gun Club Contest.-A shooting match having been won nearly a year since by the same Club at Bay Ridge. The members are-Messrs. B. Marley, Edward Scarif, Chas. M. Jessop, George C. Tracey, Chas. J. Beckley, George N. Jessop, John C. Hicks and B. H. Scott. Mr. George N. Jessop coming out ahead carried off the prize, having made 41 out of a possible 50. This gives to Mr. Jessop the championship of Maryland. Good for Dulany's KITTY. The Towson Club proposes to take a hand in the State match on Tuesday next, 24th inst., at Tol-

Richard McNicholas Declared Insanc.-()n Friday morning, 13th inst., Richard McNicholas, the man who shot Rev. Fathar P. B. Lenaghan on the 27th of March, 1890, at Texas, Baltimore county, was put upon trial under an indictment for assault with intent to kill. The evidence went to prove that McNicholas was insane at the time of the shooting and is still insane. The jury found him to be an insane pauper and he was sent to the Maryland Hospital for the Insane at Catonsville under an order of the Court. Dr. B. F. Bussey testified that he became insane from self-abuse, which impaired his mental and physical condition. Examination in the Public Schools.-Exami nation of the pupils in the several grades of the Public Schools of Baltimore county have been in progress the past two weeks with a view to promotion from the lower to the higher grade. It is an anxious time for the pupils and requires them to put on their studying caps. They have met the issue bravely, however, and have, generally, vanquished the questions of Col. Rogers, the Examiner. After examination will come a two-months

"Five Mills" to be a Dynamo Factory .- What is known as the "Five Mills," on Gwynn's Falls, at Calverton, with about 12 acres of land, has been purchased by The Wenstrom Consolidated Dynamo and Motor Company, which will turn them into a factory for the manufacture of electric moters. The price paid was $40,564. The water power of the mills is estimated at 400 horse power. The Grand Jury Adjourns .- The Grand Jury for the May Term of Court adjourned on the 18th inst. after a session of 23 days, during which time they found 47 presentments and dismissed 45 cases

The members of the jury presented the foreman Wilson Townsend, with a fine gold-headed cane. They had a dinner on Wednesday at Reed's Hotel, in Towson. Admitted to Practice.-Mr. R. H. Bussey, Texas, Baltimore county, a recent graduate of the Maryland Law University, was, on motion of Mr. John S. Ensor, admitted to the practice of law in the Courts for Baltimore County. Graduated at Dickinson College.-John Thomas Hamilton, of Granite, Baltimore county, was the valedictorian at the graduation exercises at Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa., on Wednesday, Medals for Studies.-Misses Lydia and Mamie Yellott secured the first and second medals (gold and silver) in the order named for excellence in Emery Grove Camp will begin August 7th and continue until the 21st. The hotel is now open under the supervision of Mr. John E. Crout.

Monkton Items.—One of the great afflictions with which a community can be scourged in hot weather is a superabundance of dogs. We have ead in the papers with a good deal of interest of the evil doings of these cusses in and about Woodberry, in the Belt, and the vigorous and wholesome neasures taken to rid that community of the evil. We have here, particularly early in the morning when there are a great many milk wagons arriving, who are mostly accompanied by one, two and sometimes three of these mongrel breeds, a very good confirmation of the "beautiful stanza" com-mencing "Dogs delight to bark and bite," &c. The air during these early morning hours is generally filled with the angry snarls and soul-harrowing was observed howls of these more than useless brutes; but these are strange dogs. The same may be said of our own canines to the manor born. There is, for instance, the large Shepherd dog with more than one-half of his body in a nude condition. This lack of proper covering has the effect of driving all the fless into one place, where the hair is left to adorn the body, and the agony thus created to the suffering dog can be imagined, and his inhuman howl more readily excused. But we pass down from him through all shapes, sizes and nationalities of our does, even to the little, measely black imp who navigates around on three legs and a stump, but who can snarl, bark and fight more, and get licked oftener than any other dog of his size, weight and ugliness. Deliver us from dogs. Mr. John W. Merryman, who received a contract from the County Commissioners under the new law to repair the road from the Monkton iron bridge to St. James, on "My Lady's Manor," has gone to work and is fixing the road in a first-class Mr. Wm. There is a general feeling of indignation in the neighborhood against the late intemperate tirade made against people who chose to hold a different opinion from the prohibition people, and the opinion is freely expressed that there is a tempera manner to be observed in language as well as in the indulgence in alcoholic drinks. Those earnest people feel that more harm than good is done by the excessive and offensive zeal of some of the prohibi tion people The new high-license law is generally commended as filling all the needed requirements both as to revenue and putting a proper restraint upon the iquor traffic, as it will put retail liquor dealers on heir guard against selling to all improper parties.

The table of the road expenses for the past five years in the several Districts, published in the Jour-NAL of the 11th inst., was read by those persons particularly interested in the condition of the roads and furnished a subject of comment. There is also much interest taken in watching the operations of the new law under the contract system, and it is-hoped that much good may be accomplished. The refreshing rains on the 16th inst. did much good to vegetation. The storm on the 12th inst. blew a tree on the house of Mr. William Wenzel and knocked down some spouting. Fortunately no one was hurt. There seems to be objections here to persons coming from the city with their beer and being so noisy on Sunday.

Warren Items .- Children's Day has been o served as usual for the objects of which each de-nomination uses them. The Methodist Protestants give the day to foreign missions. A trip around the world was given in dissolving views by Mr. Wm. E. Lovering. The general fault with these views is the net-like or cloudy appearance, but not so with Mr. Levering's views. With but few exceptions he gives a clear and distinct picture, and anyone who has the opportunity to attend his views and fails to do so misses a treat, dis songs are grand and always leave a favorable We had plenty of preaching on Sunday last, see mons from three different ministers. CHILDREN'S DAY. Towson M. E. Church.-Children's Day was dserved in the Towson M. E. Church on Sunday last, 15th inst. In the morning at 11 o'clock the pasior, Rev. Page Milburn, preached an appropriate sermon to parents and children. His remarks were very instructive and entertaining and listened to with attention by all. At 3 P. M. a baptismal service took place, when Mr. W. Gill Smith's infant child, Harry Lamar, was baptised. At 8 P. M. the regular annual entertainment of the children of the Sunday School, Mr. James E. Dunphy, Superintendent, took place, when the following program was observed:

Chorus, "Whosoever Will," school; prayer, Rev.
A. D. Dick; chorus, "Gospel Bells," school; recitation, "This Is Our Day," Frank Phipps; reading, "Praying For Papa," Isabel Parker; chorus, "Teil Me All About Jesus," the boy choir; recitation, "Little Helpers," Margaret Hunter: reading, "There's A Wideness In God's Mercy," Ella Bowen; solo "Sowing" Papa Coplay, dialogue "The Flows," solo, "Sowing," Ross Conley; dialogue, "The Flowers," Gracie Burns, Lillie Hook, Ethel Scott and Annie Seipp; reading, Emma Phipps; chorus, "Along The River Of Time," choir; recitation, "Truly Brave." Willie Bowen : recitation, "God's Message In The Flowers," Lillie Hook; Come," five little girls; reading, "The Last Hymn, Miss Mary Sherican; solo, "Oh. How We Love Him," Julia Pinkerton; recitation, "Fuss and Fret," Rosa Conley; recitation, "Does God Care For The Birdies," Lulu Woods; quartet, "I Know The Lord Will Hear Me," Mrs. C. A. Roe, Miss Lottie Wright, Charles T. and Wm. K. Burns; reading, "Tommy's Prayer?' Emma Held; chorus, "Loving Hearts," the boy choir; recitation, "A Spring Song," Miriam Hunter; address, Rev. Page Milburn; collection; doxology and benediction.

At each service the school was formed in single file in the Lecture Room and marched up into the audience room, which was a pleasing sight. Mrs. Charles A. Roe presided at the organ at all the services. Messrs. Charles A. Roe and Joseph B. Murlaitimore, besides the knowledge of having a good | ray were the ushers. At the evening service there were 500 persons present, including the school. The church was beautifully decorated as on all such occasions, which was done under the supervision of Mr. John E. Flayhart, the efficient Secretary of the school, assisted by the members. Inside the chancel rail and around the pulpit were evergreens, flowers, ferns and potted plants, and a large cross trimmed with flowers. Suspended from the

the centre of the evergreen a large star was suspended. On one side of the pulpit on the wall were the words "Welcome to all" and "Children's wall- were wreaths, banners and mottoes and the names of the officers of the school. Altogether the church was a pretty sight, which was admired by the large number of friends present. These occasions are looked forward to by the people generally with a great deal of pleasure, and when the time arrives they show their appreciation of the efforts of the school by their presence On this occasion there was a larger number of the school present than any previous Children's Day. The day passed off very pleasantly throughout and will no doubt be looked back upon with a great deal of pleasure. Govanstown Presbyterian School .- Children's Day and the 16th anniversary of the Govanswhat, but will it not vastly increase that toothsome lown Presbyterian Sabbath School were the features f the day last Sabbath. The morning services were conducted by the pastor, Rev. S. H. Martin, who had a hearty welcome, it being the first Sunday after his return from Europe. The sermon was in the interest of the children. Beautiful palms, potted plants and cut flowers, tasteful decoration's by the lady teachers, indicated that the occasion was one of more than usual interest. church aisle and vestibule were filled. G. W. Hobbs; recitation, "Give," Miss Sallie Cowen. Quite a goodly amount was raised for educational purposes. The meeting closed with prayer by Mr. W. Maynard. Great credit is due the chorister, Mr. Charles I Flitton, and the organist. Miss Emma Bankhead, who have labored assiduously in bringing the school up to a high degree of proficiency in singing.

Mr. T. Sewall Plummer assisted with cornet, and Messrs, Wallace Sinclair and Charles Kendervater on the violins. Miss Clara Bateman, Miss Snow and others of the Committee on Decorations, arranged the plants and flowers with much taste. Eklo M. E Sunday School .- Children's Day was duly observed on last Sunday morning at the M. E. Church, Eklo. The popular and efficient Superintendent was on hand with everything arranged in due order. The decoration exhibited the most exquisite skill of any I ever beheld on such an occasion. There were potted plants, ferns, festoons and wreaths, arranged in the most profuse manner. The canary, which hung just back of the pulpit, warbled away his beautiful songs and thus rendered the whole scene one of almost infinite oy, especially to those who can properly appreciate the lovely and the beautiful. The scholars acquitted themselves most nobly in heir recitations. Mr. Hoffman, who was musical director, performed his part of the program well, speaks in a recent issue of the desire on the part of and Miss Lou Parrish presided at the organ with a syndicate to buy fifty or a hundred acres of land equal dignity. The Rev. W. F. Roberts made a well-timed speech on the object of Children's Day, which elicited quite a handsome collection. These exercises are being duly appreciated as is attested the health-giving properties of the water of Glyn- by the large congregations attending them. T.

At Forge's, 11th District.—Last Suday, 15th Fleury. Two beautiful columns surmounted by inst., was Children's Day at Forge's M. E. Sunday School, Mr. Charles Barton, Superintendent. The Dedication of St. Stephen's Church, at Bradshaw.—On Sunday last, 15th inst., the new Catholic Church of St. Stephen, at Bradshaw, in he 11th District, of which the Rev. Don Luigi Sartori is the pastor, was dedicated by Cardinal Gib-Catholic Societies of Baltimore under the Chief Marshalship of Mr. Jas. R. Wheeler, President of the Young Catholic Friends' Society of Baltimore The visiting Societies were escorted to the church by the Society of St. Stephen's, under the Marshal-Cornet Band. The Societies marched to the church one mile away, on the Joppa Road. The Knight of St. Vincent were in command of Cant. John O'Dea, and the Knights of St. Joseph by Capt. M Reddington, who was also Chief Marshal. H. I Newport was Adjutant. Several members of Kenrick Council, C. B. L., the Emerald Beneficial Association and the League of the Sacred Heart swelled the members in the procession

There was a large number of clergy present who appeared in the procession around the church while the litany of the Saints was recited, followed by the blessing of the exterior walls, after which the interior was blessed. Then followed the solemn high mass with the Rev. Father Sartori as the Celebrant, and Rev. J. L. Barry, of St. Joseph's, was Deacon, and Rev. W. L. Jordan, of St. Bridge's, of lanton, sub-Deacon. The Rev. J. J. Dil Long Green, was Master of Ceremonies. The Rev. Peter McCoy, of St. Mary's Star of the Sea, and the Rev. Geo. W. Devine, of St. John's, were Deacons f honor to the Cardinal. The music of the mass was most effectively rendered by a volunteer choir from Baltimore. The Cardinal delivered the sermon, which was an eloment and impressive discourse.

The church edifice is of the Gothic style of architecture: is of stone with brick trimmings, roofed with slate, and is rectangular in shape. It is 46 feet by 55 feet to the sanctuary arch, a graceful curve, that separates the auditorium from a semioctagonal sanctuary 22 feet deep, so that the entire dimensions are 46 feet by 77 feet. This latter part has a groined and vaulted ceiling. There are two sacristics, one at each side of the sanctuary. The sanctuary is lighted by three lancet windows, the centre being a representation of St. Stephen in the act of making his declaration of faith. The main body of the church is also lighted with lancet windows of Venetian glass, five on each side. The front is ornamented with a rose window of Vene tian glass, and six small windows in the front There are three altars of Italian and colored marble within the altar railing. The high altar is the gift of Mrs. Laura A. Gittings. The side altars are of the same style as the main altar, that of the Blessed Virgin being the gift of the pastor in mem-ory of his ordination. The St. Joseph's altar is the gift of the Fleury family, in memory of Augustine Roman bases flank the high altar. They are of pure alabaster, worked by skilful Italian artists, as the celebrated Etruscan Volterra. The pews are about 300. The passages of the gallery, which i at the front end of the church, can accommodate and is as follows: The beams from Phoebus Car, Which flash their fire all day along the sky, As downward bend the wheels their way, Shed glories unknown to the day : Nor guessed, when mounted o'er the Heavens high They flung their light afar. Ah, fitting emblems of life's hours! Youth's morning sheds its gorgeous dyes around, Its sky with sunlight's prismed powers, Conceals night's dying star.

Yet, though all radiant, fast, Life's matin hours ascend Time's azure sky, Their beauty palls before the sheen, Gleaming, as sorrowing vespertine, Whose lambent lights the morning tints defy, Sighs for the sunset past. Thus, as this hour, Youth's sinking sun Reflects its rays, the clear horizon o'er, Fair mem'ries, like the stars on Heaven's floor Which shine not till the day is done,

O forms of perfect grace The present's bright reality, May not with thy ethereal charms compare, Nor may its bright ephemeral pleasures share The love we cherish now for thee. Ah! May Time deeper trace Upon our hearts remembrance of thy worth, Loved days of girlhood, swiftly flown, That thence, the lessons all thine own Vain joy may ne'er erase.

Sweet Voice, mourn not the Past, Oblivion ne'er its darkened waves may roll Above the jewelled treasures stored. (As pearls, the bivalve's careful hoard.) Deep in the inmost chamber of thy soul Safe from the Tempest's blast. Patient, behind the day's full glare, The stars of morning bide, unseen, unfelt Though to our eyes their bright beams seem Leaving the sky all void and bare:

Their matin beams, their last. Yet.will they shine again, Though not till darkness spreads its pall. So will Youth's stars of joy flash o'er life's sky Their jewelled radiance, but day's light must die, ver over thy soul their lustre lail And Peace with it remain. O holy lesson of life's happy morn! Which here 'neath Mercy's eye of love, Have taught the way to realms above.

May you as jewels still our life adorn, Till we life's end attain. This hour must sound a knell Of sadder import to life's happiness, Than oft is signalled by the toll. That notes the passage of a soul, Bet free by Death. Feign would our lips repress The dirgeful word, "Fareweil! Relentless Time's strong icy seal, Entombing joys to which youth's sun gave birth As winter's frosts seal all the blooms of earth. But, ab, alas! there's no appeal,

Life's echo is farewell. Loved Guardians of our youth, Your hands must wake the saddest minor chord Which from the lyre of our soul, Time's dirges yet hath caused to roll Across these hearts, which through life's years w Your gifts of Faith and Truth : Till by their aid life's angry tempests pas

Gifts, whose dear worth we may not guage Our barques, in peace, are safely moored at last Where passion's tempests ne'er may rage, Nor die, the joys of Youth. But yet again, Farewell Must strike its dissonance across our heart, Companions of youth's happy day, Fain would we bid stern Time delay The flowing sands, which tell us we must part Nor e'er again may dwell Safe sheltered by these holy wails. Ah! though the future's clouds full dark may Loved home, like stars at night, thy memory Will guide, where Duty calls : St. Agnes, fare thee well.

The York Road Railway Changes Hands .-On Tuesday 17th inst. a meeting of the President and Managers of the York Road Railway Company was held at the office of the Company, Holliday street, when the formal transfer of the railway was ade in accordance with the recent purchase by the Baltimore Traction Company, Nelson Perrin, President. Mr. Samuel H. Tagart, who has been President of the Company for several years past, tendered his resignation, and it was accepted. Mr. Perin was then elected. The first official act was an order stopping the select of tighter as in recommendation. an order stopping the sale of tickets as in vogue since the road was built. A schedule of fares was adopted as follows: To Waverly 5 cents; to Govanstown 10 cents; to Towson 15 cents; between these stations 5 cents. The entire community appreciate the reduction in fare, which is liberal. The public is assured that rapid transit will be dopted in the near future. When this takes place $3,500.00. York Avenue will be a popular place to live on, or near, and lands must greatly appreciate in value.

The new order as to no tickets, conductors being required to collect fares in money, is a decided imovement. The day has gone by when peop should be annoyed by tickets on street railways. The York Road Railway has been blest for many years with as honest and obliging a class of conuctors and drivers as ever operated any railway in this country. The people are used to them and hope the Company will keep them in their employ. We believe it would be decidedly to the interest of being a success financially.

Mr. Perin aunounces that the cars of the Lom-

the Company to at once order cars to Towson every half hour. There is not a shadow of doubt of its bard street line (which is owned by the Union Passenge Railway) and pass through Holliday street, will run on the York Road tracks to Waverly, and the cars of the York Road on the Lombard street of Union tracks as far as Pratt and the Frederick Road where they connect with the Catonsville line, pro vided the guage of the tracks are the same. He will erect turntables at Wayerly, for the Lombard street cars, as they cannot be operated except at Mr. Perin states that rapid transit on the York Road as well as other lines depends upon the action of the City Councils of Baltimore. That does not make rapid transit for the York Road look very bright for the near future. A few old fogies in the city are fighting these much needed improvements. Mr. William D. Brackenridge's 80th Birthday.—Mr. William D. Brackenridge, the well-known Nurseryman, who has resided at Govanstown for over forty years, celebrated his 80th birth day, on Monday, 16th, at the residense of his old-time friend Mr. Samuel Sands, at Lake Roland.— Mr. Sands himself is over 90 years old. Mr. Brack-enridge is a Scotchman by birth, and came to this country when a young man. He was appointed a member of the Wilkes Exploring Expedition to the Southern Seas, where he collected a vast amount of information of use to the government and himself as a horticulturist and agriculturist. After th completion of his report he was selected by the government to lay out and commence the preparation of the Botanical Gardens at Washington, and also laid out the grounds around the Smithsoniar Institution. Mr. Brackenridge about 1850 moved to Govanstown where he purchased his present prop erty, and has successfully conducted the horticul tural business. He is recognized as one of the mos man, Drawing and Fainting, as follows: Misses
